PROBLEMS/CHALLENGES

Mindshare Ireland, an award-winning global media agency, were seeking to transform the way they visualize data from their robust audience research to make informed targeting decisions. Living by the manifesto, “The audience is our number one client,” Mindshare Ireland was seeking a best in class data analysis and visualization tool for their largest annual research called ‘Day in a Life’ (DILO). DILO, Mindshare Ireland’s most important study, enables Mindshare to form world-class media plans for their clients. Spanning 29 forms of media, it identifies consumer consumption behaviors, uncovering how consumers are using media each hour of the day, which devices they use and multi-screening activities for each medium.

Mindshare Ireland’s biggest challenges included a lack of flexibility, difficulties with data-sharing and disjointed collaboration caused by data analysis and visualization limitations of their existing tool. These barriers to efficiency ultimately resulted in less time and resources to dedicate to strategic data analysis. To streamline and optimize these processes, Mindshare Ireland aimed to find a state-of-the-art software that provided them with an enhanced user experience and more sophisticated – and automated – data visualization functionalities.

CLIENT TESTIMONIAL

“Since onboarding Dynata’s Reporting and Analytics solution, we have used it to run data analysis for all our studies as well as for DILO and we have been able to see the stark difference between Dynata and the software we were using prior to it. It has definitely allowed us to save time while giving us flexibility with the way we do data analysis, visualization and data sharing.”
